

Volleyball

By Page VanderWeit

The feel of your sweaty knee pads, your red burning arms, and the excitement you get when your serve goes over. The court is loud, hands smacking volleyballs, teammates cheering, bangs on the ground, whistles blowing, the stands roaring with excitement, and the players yelling "MINE, MINE, MINE!"

Feel the ball fly off your fingertips for the perfect hit, the hit that wins the game. After every ACE we do our cheer, proud and clear. The fans will hear us, all the way across the gym too, as loud as we can. We earned it! Woohoo!

Rotating all around, don't let the ball touch the ground. Give it all you got, take every shot. Don't care about the bruises, the scratches, or the scrapes. Don't let the other team score a point. No, not today. CU, DU, UCLA....I'm gonna play college someday.